Biography of

MRS ADRIANA AMY DANQUAH

The life of Adriana Efua Amy Danquah, affectionately known as Aunty Amy, is a vibrant tapestry woven with threads of unwavering faith, selfless service, and a profound love for Christ and humanity. Aunty Amy was born in Sekondi-Takoradi on 22nd September, 1974 to Joseph V.C. Orleans and Victoria Annan. She joined her paternal family in Freetown as a child when the family relocated to Sierra Leone. Her formative years were spent in Sierra Leone, where she lived for nearly fifteen years. She was raised with a foundational understanding that life's greatest value is found in what we give out rather than what we accumulate. She lived most of her childhood life in Freetown-Sierra Leone with her paternal family. Those who knew her early life remember a young woman who found her greatest joy in helping others. This conviction took deep root at an early age when she made the life-altering decision to follow Jesus Christ. From that moment forward, her journey was no longer her own; it became a mission to reflect the light of the Gospel in every corner of her world. Over the past fifty-one years, she moved through the seasons of life, from a challenging childhood, through the energetic aspirations of youthfulness to the seasoned wisdom of adulthood with a singular focus to be the hands and feet of the Lord Jesus to those in need.

In her youthful age, Adriana Amy Danquah sought to align her professional and personal life with her spiritual convictions. Whether she was working with Consika Ltd and Danqsi Ltd or raising her family, she viewed every environment as a mission field. She realized early in life that to serve the Lord Jesus was to serve humanity, and so she began to view every person she met as an image-bearer of the Creator. She did not just speak about the love of Christ, she demonstrated it by mentoring young women and helping others. Her involvement in Christ Apostolic Church International-CACI activities served as a cornerstone of her life, where she led with a servant's heart and mentored the younger generation of believers, teaching them that true leadership is rooted in humility. She was often found preparing meals for the needy, organizing women's fellowship retreats, or providing quiet counsel to the grieving. Those early years were defined by a yearning for a greater purpose. The seeds of her future service were already being sown in her natural empathy and her stand as a helping hand to others. In those early years, she learned the value of hard work and the importance of family.

Aunty Amy's passion for building God's Kingdom was extraordinary. When the CACI New Bortianor Local Assembly began in the year 2000, Aunty Amy made it a pledge to be present at the Friday Morning Prayer Meetings continuously while still being fully committed to fellowshipping at New Mamprobi Assembly. In 2009, Aunty Amy finally joined Christ Apostolic Church International, New Bortianor Assembly, and instantly became a strong pillar in the New Bortianor Assembly. As the Elder in charge of Evangelism, she served with passion and grace. No distance was too far and no task too burdensome. After every service, she ensured visitations were done via phone calls, follow-ups, and personal visits using her own resources. Aunty Amy lived over 14km away from the church, yet she always made it a responsibility to arrive early and serve wholeheartedly. Aunty Amy's passion for GOD's work made her lead the then Missions Director, Apostle Amaning (Rtd), Pastor Woode and other church leaders to establish the Sierra Leone Branch of CACI, an achievement that continues to bear fruit. For Adriana Amy Danquah, "To live is Christ and to die is gain" as the Apostle Paul submitted in Philippians 1:21. To Aunty Amy, Christ Apostolic Church International was her family, her home and her joy.

Biography of MRS ADRIANA AMY DANQUAH

A defining chapter of Adriana Amy Danquah's story unfolded at the age of 25 years, when she entered into the sacred covenant of marriage with Kwame Danquah. This union was far more than a social milestone. This union was the joining of two hearts under a shared mission to serve the Lord Jesus. Adriana Amy Danquah entered into platonic relationship with her future husband, Kwame Danquah in January 1999. Adriana Amy Orleans as she was called, got engaged to Kwame Danquah on the 17th - July, 1999 at her paternal residence at Kweikuma estate, Takoradi. Adriana Amy Orleans got married to Kwame Danquah on 15th - August, 1999 at Christ Apostolic Church International - Mamprobi branch. As she stood on the matrimonial altar, she committed not only to a partner but to a lifetime of building a Christian home. Together, the couple navigated the early years of adulthood, learning that the strength of a marriage is found in the three-fold cord of husband, wife and God. This relationship became the bedrock from which her public service grew, providing her with the support and love necessary to pour herself out for others. Aunty Amy and the husband moved to an apartment at Darkuman junction after marriage and started a family. The husband worked as the manager of a family business construction firm, Bremak Ventures Ltd, and Aunty Amy worked as a clothing trader in Accra. The couple had their first child, Efua Danquah in 2001. The second child, Yaw Danquah was in 2004 and the last child, Kukua Danquah was born in 2009. Aunty Amy taught her children the values of respect, hard work, and faith. People in need came to her for assistance and comfort and she gave it freely without getting tired. Aunty Amy worked hard and joined the husband as one of the directors in some companies and organizations. After Aunty Amy received her Bachelor of Arts degree in communication studies (development communication) from the African University College of Communication in 2014, she pledged and committed her life to serving GOD in different roles in Christ Apostolic Church International.

Adriana Amy Danquah worked as a director of Consika Ltd, a construction company, a director of Danqsi Ltd, an investment management company and the Women Affairs Director of the International Secretariat of Harakati Za Muungano, a Pan-African NGO. Aunty Amy was a tireless advocate for workers welfare. She consistently stood for improved salaries and better working conditions, ensuring that the well-being of working staff was never overlooked. She carried the workers concerns as her own and spoke on behalf of workers with courage, and love. Beyond advocacy, Aunty Amy assisted workers with her own hands. Aunty Amy shared in the workers daily struggles by always availing herself to assist when financial or work-related challenges arose. In her generosity, she went even further, by purchasing essential items and offering them to staff on interest-free credit, simply to ensure that everyone had what they needed to live with dignity. Her approach transformed the companies into a family, not just a place of work. Indeed, Aunty Amy was more than a director; she was a mother and a guardian for some of the companies.

Adriana Amy Danquah's legacy will not be found in titles or accolades, but in the lives she has touched, the mouths she has fed and the souls she has pointed toward the Cross. To her husband, children and extended family, she was a source of constant encouragement, a typical "Proverbs 31" woman in the flesh and a living example of the Fruit of the Spirit. To her community, she was a helping hand and a peacemaker.

May the LORD JESUS grant you perfect peace and perfect rest in heaven.

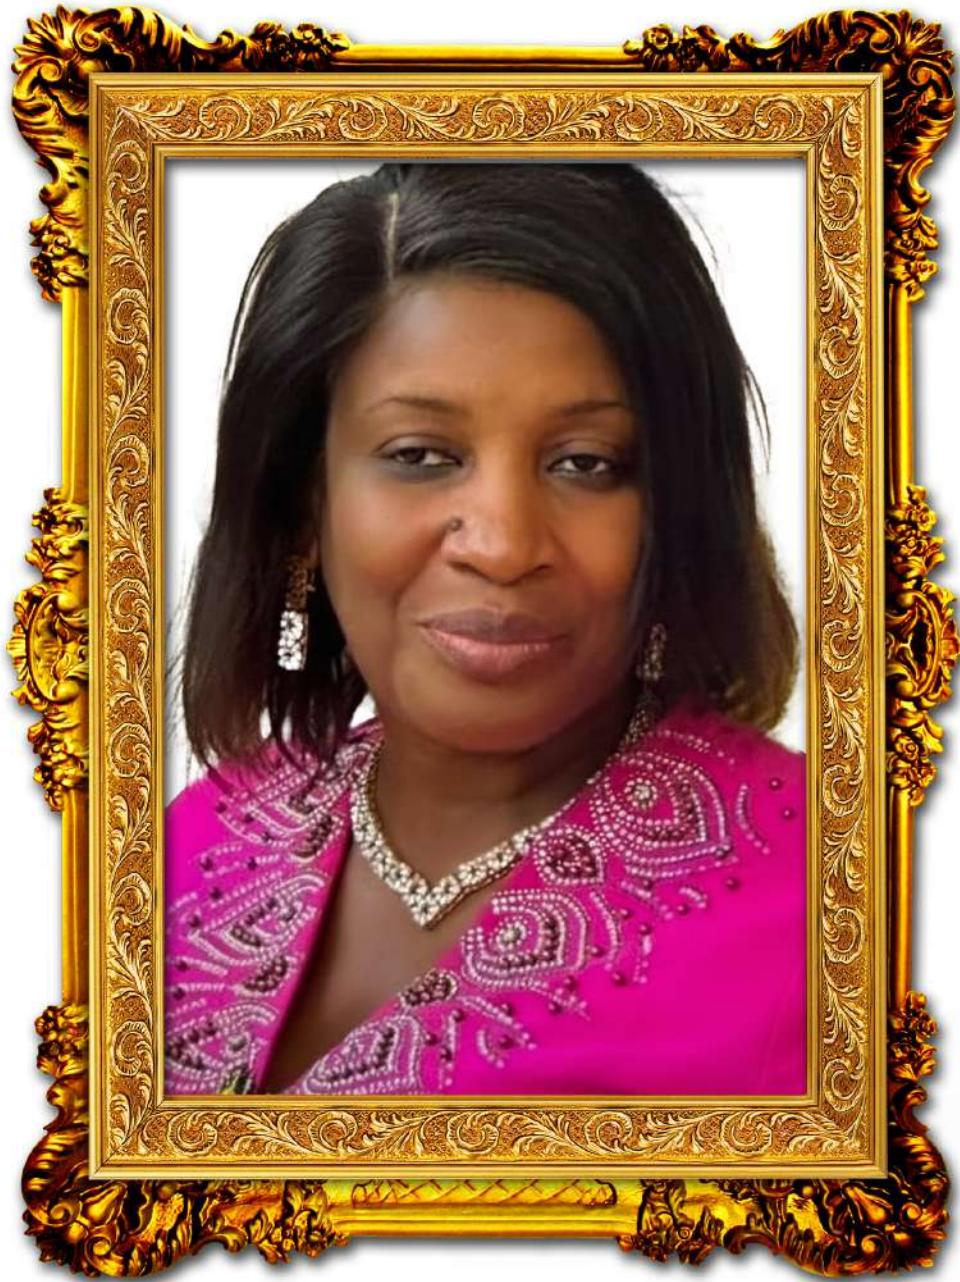

Your memory will forever remain a blessing.

Damirifa due.

"To live is Christ and to die is gain"

- Philippians 1:21

The first serious encounter between myself and my late wife was at my father's shop in Accra. After a couple of meetings, I engaged in serious conversation about deepening friendship with my future wife in January 1999. My late wife was in the company of a family friend heading to their trading centre in a market at Accra when we first met. We linked up, maintained the communication line and later agreed that we were compatible and could move our relationship forward. She started with me as a Christian woman while I remained the typical businessman. We elevated our relationship and had our engagement ceremony on the 17th - July, 1999 at her paternal residence at Kweikuma estate, Takoradi. We got married the next month, 15th - August, 1999 at Christ Apostolic Church International - Mamprobi branch.

We moved to our apartment at Darkuman junction after marriage and started our family. I worked as the manager of a family business construction firm, Bremak Ventures Ltd, and she worked as a clothing trader in Accra. We had our first child, Efua Danquah in 2001. The second child, Yaw Danquah was in 2004 and our last child, Kukua Danquah was born in 2009. My late wife later worked hard and joined me as one of the directors in some significant companies and organizations. After my late wife received her bachelor of arts degree in communication studies (development communication) from the African University College of Communication in 2014, she pledged and committed her life to serving GOD in different roles in Christ Apostolic Church International. Our family lived a simple, content and happy Christian life till the sorrowful demise of my wife.

Amy my dear, was the affectionate name I called my late wife. Amy my dear, you were a blessing, a shelter and a light to the children and myself. You were not just my wife, but you were my companion, my confidant, the very heart of our home, and the light that guided our family. From the moment our paths crossed in Accra, I knew you were special. Your grace, your wisdom, and the kindness in your eyes captured me completely.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF THE LATE MRS ADRIANA AMY DANQUAH

You walked into my life with the dignity of a queen and the humility of a servant, and you blessed me with a love that was pure, unwavering, and true. You taught our children the values of respect, hard work, and faith. You were the pillar of our family. People in need came to you for assistance and comfort and you gave it freely without getting tired.

I watched you give and give and I learnt from you how to love without counting the cost. Even in your final days, your strength never wavered. You faced everything with courage and grace, never complaining, always putting others first. You taught me what true resilience means, not just to endure, but to do so with love in your heart.

I am pained and restless without your presence. But I find comfort in knowing that you are now at peace, resting in the arms of the Almighty GOD in JESUS NAME, free from pain and suffering. I will honor your memory every day and make your name a blessing to generations unborn. I will raise our children with the same love, wisdom, faith and strength you poured into them. I will keep your story alive and your spirit living on in everything we do. You were more than a wife, yes, you were a blessing from GOD.

Rest well, Amy my dearest love. My prayer is that your soul find perfect peace and eternal rest in JESUS OUR LORD.

Tribute In Memory By CHILDREN

For myself and my siblings, the greatest blessing God has ever granted us is the parents He gave us, especially the mother He gave us. As siblings we often tease ourselves calling each other 'happy children' or 'children of a happy home' but in fact, it is the reality of our upbringing. We have always been bright and happy children and that is because we had Mrs Adriana Amy Danquah as our mother. She has never been our mother simply because she birthed us but because she was always present with her love overflowing. For all time, there has never been a limit to her love for us.

In our experience, being the children of Adriana Amy Danquah means to experience a love and a friendship that is as honest and genuine in its words and its actions as it is in its silence and stillness. Every conscious memory we have of her, every interaction and every conversation over the decades, all of them bring smiles and laughter to our faces and make us acknowledge what a wholly welcoming and warm person our mother was.

I often say to people 'Aunty Amy woo mmiensa nso ne mma bebree' and in hindsight, this statement feels like an embodiment of her. She was someone who loved people and was always eager to help people who were eager to be better versions of themselves. She believed in the empowerment of self whether through financial establishment, education or pursuing a purpose and she found contentment in assisting others to realise that. From counselling and consolations for hours on the phone, to travelling distances far and near to render her services or support. It never aggrieved her to give, whether it was herself, her time, her effort or her money. Because of this my family has never been limited to those with whom I share a blood relation.

As many as were willing to call her 'Maa' she called them 'meba' and as such I call them 'menua'. This is Adriana Amy Danquah's legacy. She found joy in helping others, especially in the house of God. Seeing people reshape their lives was her fulfilment. I, Efua, have always aspired to be a mother to my children the way my mother has been to us. To all, she was a counsellor and a helper. To her children; Efua, Yaw and Kukua, she was a mother and a friend. Our bestfriend.

Maa,

You have always been my role model in life; in motherhood, in your marital commitment and in your service to the church. You were an admirable and inspirational person.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF THE LATE MRS ADRIANA AMY DANQUAH

Tribute In Memory By CHILDREN

Your flexibility and resilience in the various commercial avenues in which you engaged was truly a force to be reckoned with. You were always ready to branch out and take on a new challenge, never letting past struggles or obstacles stop you moving forward. We know there was much more you would have done had you had the time. Your prayer was always that God grants you life and prosperity so that you could help His house.

Till your very last day you were dedicated to the house of God willingly doing everything required of you and more with joy. Despite the demanding nature of such fulfillments, you were still flawless as the matron of your home. You were present and soft, happy to be in your space living and engaging with your family, or our dogs Tino and Bambi or just tending to your peppers in your garden. From observing you, we know what a wife and a mother should be. Your dedication, your patience, your love, the happiness you exuded when you were in the presence of your husband and children, and the comfort of your home made it exactly that, a home.

As an individual, you put in every effort to establish and reinvent yourself. No matter how late, it was never too late. You educated yourself and elevated yourself re-establishing yourself in a new light and stance in society. As your children, we are honoured to have you as our mother. That you could wholeheartedly and perfectly demonstrate a love you had not known and establish yourself to new heights is evidence of the grace of God in your life.

Mummy,

It hurts that I will never again make a phone call and hear you pick up saying 'hello baby girl', and that you will never again on this earth call Yaw your sunshine or that Kukua's bubbly outbursts will not be met with your amused exclamation of 'ei me ba yi'. Nonetheless, we know you are in a better place. Although it is hard to accept that you are gone, we know you are happy somewhere free of worries and the stresses and flaws of this earth.

A place you have longed for. We know you have run your race and finished gracefully, so, although we are deeply hurt, we still find joy in our sorrow.

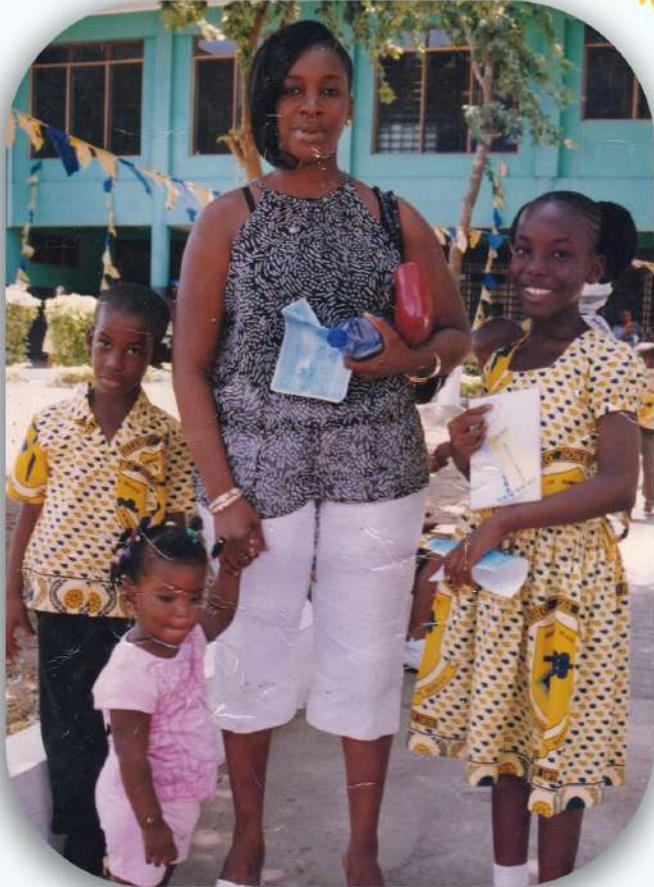

Your absence will not be the end of your legacy Mummy. We will always carry your name, your heart and your essence with us.

Rest well mummy.

Tribute from CHRIST APOSTOLIC CHURCH INTL.

Aunty Amy. Mrs. Danquah. Efua Amissah. Maa Amy.

These were the names you responded to with joy, warmth, and a radiant smile. To us, you were more than a church member you were a Precious Jewel of God, the apple of His eye, and a priceless gift to the body of Christ.

Your passion for building God's Kingdom was extraordinary. You longed to see the house of God flourish, and your final request reflected your heart: that our Auditorium be refurbished to the glory of God before dedication. Even when our attempt in April 2025 fell short of your "preferred standard," it only showed how deeply you valued excellence in service to the Lord.

Your journey with our church family spans decades. When the New Bortianor Local Assembly began in the year 2000, you were right there at the Friday Morning Prayer Meetings yet still fully committed to fellowshipping at New Mamprobi Assembly.

In 2009, you finally joined Christ Apostolic Church International, New Bortianor Assembly, and from that moment, you became a strong pillar among us.

The late Elder Mrs. Adriana Efua Amissah Danquah embodied dedication, loyalty, responsibility, and unwavering devotion. As the Elder in charge of Evangelism, you served with passion and grace. No distance was too far, no task too burdensome.

After every service, you ensured visitations were done—through phone calls, follow-ups and personal visits. You lived far away, yet you always found time to arrive early and serve wholeheartedly.

You were a living example of a believer in tune with heaven and in touch with everyday life—through prayer, through the study of God's Word, through your tireless support for church growth, and most of all, through your unparalleled hospitality.

Your generosity knew no limits.

Locally— Things were perfectly done.

At the Circuit level—You supported.

At the Area level—You showed maturity

At the Territory—you stood firm.

At CAC Headquarters you were always present.

And internationally, you led the then Missions Director, Apostle Amaning (Rtd), and other Executives to establish the Sierra Leone Branch of CACI, an achievement that continues to bear fruit.

Christ Apostolic Church International was your family, your home, your joy. You stood with us, served with us, and loved us deeply. And yet, in God's own time, He saw that you had completed your assignment. He needed you most, and with divine tenderness, He called you home.

God be with you till we meet again.

You fought a good fight.

You finished the race.

You kept the faith.

Rest peacefully, a true soldier of Christ,
who laid down her Armor quietly and with dignity.

"Blessed are the dead who from now on die in the Lord...they will rest from their labor...for their deeds (Revelation 14:13)

We are here today to pay our respect to a comrade, a remarkable woman, an extraordinary benefactor to the Good Women Ministry. Auntie Amy's life was characterized by unwavering faith, and a profound commitment to the formation of women in CACI. Auntie Amy served as a guiding light, and a symbol of great kindness to all who had the privilege of knowing her. Her unwavering faith in the teachings of the Church propelled her to devote herself to the service of God and humanity moving her from a local good women ministry leader to Territorial Good women Ministry Secretary. A position she played diligently till her demise. Truly Auntie Amy was principled and passionate about women issues. So blunt when it comes to honesty and loyalty. With that strong and sweet voice amidst smiles, she will argue her case fluently. Her early morning calls beginning with jokes and funny preludes to some of us will surely be missed. She was just beautiful in and out. As one of the leaders of this fraternity, she embodied the virtues of honor, integrity, and humility, inspiring all not just women who sought to walk the path of righteousness. Her generosity was unparalleled, she dedicated her time, resources, and expertise to Women Ministry ensuring that future generations of women in CACI would receive the best possible education and guidance. Indeed, her impact extended far beyond financial contributions. Her kindness and compassion knew no boundaries. She was a mentor, a confidant, and a friend to countless women in the church. Auntie Amy you paid your dues for the sustainability of this wonderful ministry and we would forever be grateful and carry your memory in our hearts. May your good deeds follow you.

We the members of the Accra West Territorial Good Women Ministry say rest well and rise in glory.

Queen Afua Amissah, we love you but God loves you more. Rest well in the bosom of our Lord till we meet again.

We honor our sister as we grieve her passing and celebrate her life. We are but a vapor, here today and gone tomorrow. She ran her race, and she finished the course. My sister was truly the salt of the earth and the light of many people's world.

The true test of one's faith in God is the ability to share what Christ has done in and through you. She forgave, she loved, she cared. She responded with compassion and extended her heart and her resources to meet the needs of others.

The reality is, She understood that giving flows from what one possesses, and in her life, Jesus Christ was her source. Her legacy of faith, love, and service will continue to speak and inspire all who knew her.

Our dear sister, you may be gone in sight, but never from our hearts. We find comfort in believing that your spirit is at peace. Losing you has left a silence in our lives.

One day, we hope to meet again, where pain has no place and love lives forever. Until then, we love you, we'll miss and keep your memories alive in our hearts.

Rest peacefully, our beautiful sister. We love you.
